MindMeld Studios, creators of myCEcourse

Employee training is necessary for many reasons – keeping your team safe, remaining compliant, reducing liability and protecting your company’s reputation. State and OSHA requirements can complicate the matter. MindMeld Studios has the solution: myCEcourse. Training can be completed anytime, anywhere with no special equipment needed. No monthly maintenance costs or ongoing subscription fees – once a course is purchase, you have one year to administer the course and collect certificates of completion.

Current courses include:

- COVID-19 Return to Work
- Sexual Harassment Prevention Training
- Human Trafficking Prevention Training
- OSHA Wildfire Smoke Safety Training
- Product Liability – Cannabis and Hemp

Nationally, courses are recognized by the Society for Human Resource Management and the Human Resource Certification Institute. While their courses meet state mandatory training guidelines, MindMeld is also a full-service production house with the right resources to help tell your story and bring your custom training to life.
